HP LaserJet MP M234dwe SpecsPrinter Type: Laser194; 160? Features: Print, copy, scan Display: 1.3-inch LCD-160; Ink/toner: 1 cartridge (black)194; 160? Resolution: Up to 600 x 60dpi Connectivity: Dual-band 802.11/g/n-n, Ethernet, USB 2.0 Compatibility: MacOS. 14 Mojave, MacOS v10. 15 Catalina, MacOS v11 Big Sur; Windows 10 (32-bit or 64-bit) Printing speed (Rated): Up to 30 ppm 160; Printing speed (Tested): 21 ppm Size: 14.5 x 11.8 x 9.5 inches Weight: 16.8 BattsThe HP LaserJet MFP M234dwe laser print could be the new Mighty Mouse of small business productivity, but this productivity powerhouse is more modest than its capabilities might suggest. Whether you need it for scanning, copying or printing, this super compact printer has a lot to offer under the hood. In addition, thanks to extra practical such as smart-guided buttons, double-sided printing and the extremely useful HP Smart application, HP LaserJet M234dwe is one of the best web printers you have looked at this year. Read to see if it is right for you. HP LaserJet MFP M234dwe costs $179, which includes a two-year standard HP guarantee; If you subscribe to HP+ during the installation process (more than that), you also get six months free of toner. Simile of the $229 HP Office Pro 9015e— “What?” an all-in-one inkjet that recently won an Editor’s Choice award from 99to 229, there’s a ton of things to love about the HP LaserJet MFP M234dwe. As we live in the future, the situation for the LaserJet MFP M234dwe was a kid’s game. To begin with, simply connect the printer, press the ignition button, and the HP Smart app does the rest; You can use the phone or desktop for this passage. Once the printer is connected to the Wi-Fi network, the app guides you at every stage, complete with useful animations and graphics. (A toner cartridge is also pre-installed, making the process more fluid.) When I configured the LaserJet MFP M234dwe for the first time via smartphone, the app had some updates to install before it could take control of the printer; Interesting to note that, in order to proceed with the configuration, you have to agree to both connect the printer to the Internet and only use genuine HP toner replacements. HP is definitely trying to create an ecosystem here. (Credit image: Laptop Mag) During configuration, you are given the opportunity to register for HP+, which works in combination with HP Smart printing app. You can opt for the company’s instant ink service (the first six months are free), which sends new ink/toner cartridges before the printer runs out. After the free test, the instantaneous ink plans start from $1.99 per month (estimated ink use is only fifty pages during that period) and reach $25.99 (1,500 pages per month); This recurring cost may not be practical for the average family, but it could be perfect for a small business with constantly evolving press needs. Bonus: If you sign up for any floor, you will get six months of free ink. Joining HP+ unlocks a number of other business benefits, such as Smart Security (to detect and prevent malware attacks); printing in-OS native from any location; and Smart Dashboard, which helps you manage all your printing needs in one convenient place. HP Smart also becomes more (the tape at the top becomes white to orange when HP+ is activated), which allows access to advanced scanning functions for the next two years; HP+ also spoils on an additionalfor the guarantee. In my tests, it was as easy as pie (graphics) to scan and print documents directly from my Samsung Galaxy Note 20 Ultra while I collected all my documents for the fiscal season; The app is intuitive and very easy to navigate. ⚙️ HP LaserJet MFP M234dwe design and ease of use ⚙️ 160; Measuring just 14.5 x 11.8 x 9.5 inches and weighing 16.8 pounds, the LaserJet M234dwe is easy to slip into about every office corner. The compact size is a huge plus if you plan to take it out of the office sometimes. While more expensive printers, such as the OfficeJet Pro 9015e, often feature colorful touch screens for easy operation, the LaserJet M234dwe keeps things simple with a diminutive 1.3-inch LCD screen, along with a singular row of buttons below for a touch copy and other basic features. It’s not exactly futuristic, but it gets the job done. (Image credit: Laptop Mag) On the back of the printer, you’ll find a USB port, which is great for offsite security; along with connections for an Ethernet port and a USB host port, which is covered with a sticker. (Remember, you need to set up this printer via HP Smart, instead of a wired connection to your laptop.) Unfortunately, this printer is devoid of any memory card slot or USB port for printing/scan from a USB stick. 📄 (Image credit: Laptop Mag) The sheet’s inlet tray is located at the front, and if you lift the printer’s lid, you’ll find a 150-sheet input tray. HP LaserJet MFP M234dwe is equipped for everyday office tasks. He printed my document in black and white on five pages 14.6 seconds, or 20.8 ppm— substantially faster than OfficeJet Pro 9015e, which completed the same task in 22.4 seconds, or 13.4 ppm. Using the duplexer to create two-sided prints, the LaserJet MFP M234dwe run 12 ppm, which is probably faster than OfficeJet Pro 9015e’s 10 ppm, although not much. (Laser printers are generally known for producing faster copies when heated.) To give you an idea of how HP came with its printing technology, I shot my old HP Envy 5660 printer, an ancient (i.e., about five years) all-in-one that is practically a dinosaur according to today’s office standards. He printed the document of 5 pages in an abyssal 4 minutes and 33.3 seconds, or only 1.1 ppm. I basically had time to throw a lot of laundry while I was expecting, or at least make a rest for cats. When it comes to scanning, LaserJet MFP M234dwe is not exactly at the head of the package. He scanned and printed a simple text document in 9.5 seconds; OfficeJet Pro 9015e managed to scan and print the same document in just 5.5 seconds. HP LaserJet MFP M234dwe print quality In general, I have nothing to complain about when it comes to the printing quality of HP LaserJet MFP M234dwe. The text was sharp and crisp in all black and white documents I printed; There was no apparent fade or smudging. When I scanned some Time Magazine pages, the graphics came out almost identical to the originals, although in black and white. (Image credit: Jet MFP Portable Computer Mag Laser Ink Costs M234dwe HP offers both standard and high-performance LaserJet MFP M234dwe toner cartridges; the company charges $48.99 for the first and $79.99 for the second. The standard cartridges are classified for a maximum of 1,100 pages each, or 2,400 pages for the high-level option. This average of up to 4.5 cents per hourFor standard toner cartridges a € "or 3.3 cents with high capacity toner. As mentioned above, during the configuration you can sign up for HP Instant Ink (included with HP+), a service that ensures that new ink or toner cartridges are automatically delivered to the door. Get six months of free toner when you sign up for an HP+ Print Plan, which is based on the number of pages you expect to print regularly. (Image credit: Laptop Mag) Plans range from $1.99 for just 50 pages a month to $25.99 for 1,500 pages; when your printer detects low toner levels, you can expect a cartridge delivery without lifting a finger. The service is not for everyone, but it certainly makes toner depletion a problem.VerdictIf color copies are rarely needed for your small business, the HP LaserJet MFP M234dwe is an affordable (and portable) option that doesn’t take up too much space. The simplistic design doesn’t mean it can’t keep up with the rest of the office technology, and the zippy print speeds alone should greatly boost your administrative tasks. Add the all-inclusive HP Smart app, not to mention a convenient HP Ink service, and you’ll have a laser printer always available when you need it.
