

Boku no hero 2nd movie

With my hero Academia: Heroes rising to release in North American theaters on February 26, the second length films will present its events in a very unique time in the franchise's timeline. The fans may be surprised to know that the upcoming film does not take place during the fourth season of the anime, but rather a bit 'in the future, following events that have already taken place in the manga, showing details that still have to make your way in' correct souls. To prepare for the events align with the franchise! Attention! We may be a TAD spoilery when it comes to minor events of the film and manga of the same of my hero Academia, so be forewarned! My Hero Academia: Heroes that arise following the struggle against the new villain heir apparent at all for one to nine. The events do not take place during the fourth season of the anime, but rather, it would be actually more likely towards the second half of any season five, if not six seasons. Nine himself appears in the manga for a brief look at section 222 of the Academia my hero, even though it has its presence known but rather simply makes a quick cammeo. Sms from this focus on nine, the doctor left the paranormal liberation front, the Dr. Garaki, also makes an appearance in the upcoming movie, although it only appears in chapter 221 of the manga for its part as a villain officially. Taking this into account, we know that the film is going long after the four seasons, with the current cultural festival Arc falling in sections 169 to 183 in the manga itself. We also have a Shigaraki looking for clues in the film, Sporting in appearance very different from when I saw for the last time during the period Revino, eliminating the competition of the head of Yakuza stealing arms and strange to him that erases drug. In the manga, the appearance of Shigaraki is changed while these are some spoilers that take place after the conclusion of season four of my hero Academia, the next film should not spoil much when it comes to souls, so fans should not avoid the upcoming movie if you avoid spoilers for the main series. There are certainly hints at what arrives, but nothing important with regard to the events that take place after the following season four of the souls! I'll ensure my hero Academia: heroes that arise when he falls in theaters in a few days?
